

NEW APPROACH TO ESTIMATION FOR DATA WITH GENERAL MEASUREMENT ERROR

Jiayang Sun
Case Western Reserve University
Department of Statistics
Cleveland, OH 44106-7054
jsun@case.edu

Abstract

A new approach to density estimation based on data measured with general measurement errors is studied. The measurement errors are assumed to be distributed from a known or unknown histogram. The backbone of the new approach is an interface our Non-Fourier estimation procedure and Mixture estimation.